

How safe is your super?

The security of your superannuation is fundamental to the Energy Industries Superannuation Scheme.

Security is maintained in the following ways:

1. Safe custody of assets

All assets are held by JP Morgan Chase Bank on behalf of the Scheme.

2. Diversified investments

Investments held on behalf of Scheme members are spread across all asset classes (subject to any investment choices you have made). These include investments in Australian and international shares, property, Australian and international fixed interest (e.g. government bonds) and cash.

This diversification provides some protection against market fluctuations in any one asset class.

3. Diversified investment managers

To limit the exposure to any one investment manager, the Scheme employs a number of complementary fund managers that are selected on the basis of their expertise in managing particular asset classes.

4. Clear communication

The Scheme communicates with members on a regular basis via work site visits, retirement seminars, annual reports, newsletters, the Member Services Contact Centre, its website and Member Benefit Statements.

5. Transparency

You are able to review the Trust Deed, the governing legal document outlining all the Scheme's rules. You can access the deed via the internet (www.eisuper.com.au) or you can call Member Services on 1300 369 901 to ask for a copy.

You can also obtain a full copy of the Scheme accounts which have been audited by the Audit Office of New South Wales.

6. Complying superannuation fund

The Scheme is a 'Complying Superannuation Fund' and therefore subject to Commonwealth laws designed to protect members' interests.

7. Board of Trustees

The Scheme is overseen by a Board of Trustees comprising four member representatives and four employer representatives.

All investments and decisions are made 'at arms length' from the Board of Trustees ensuring no conflicts of interest can arise.

The board of Trustees must comply with obligations under both State and Commonwealth laws
