6. Other information

Your Duty of Disclosure

Before you enter into a life insurance contract, you have a duty to tell the insurer TAL Life Limited, ABN 70 050 109 450, AFSL 237848 anything that you know, or could reasonably be expected to know, may affect their decision to insure you and on what terms.

You have this duty until the insurer agrees to insure you.

You have the same duty before you extend, vary or reinstate the contract.

You do not need to tell the insurer anything that:

- reduces the risk they insure you for; or
- is common knowledge; or
- they know or should know as an insurer; or
- they waive your duty to tell them about.

If you do not tell the insurer something

In exercising the following rights, the insurer may consider whether different types of cover can constitute separate contracts of life insurance. If they do, they may apply the following rights separately to each type of cover.

If you do not tell the insurer anything you are required to, and they would not have insured you if you had told them, they may avoid the contract within 3 years of entering into it.

If the insurer chooses not to avoid the contract, they may, at any time, reduce the amount you have been insured for. This would be worked out using a formula that takes into account the premium that would have been payable if you had told them everything you should have. However, if the contract has a surrender value, or provides cover on death, the insurer may only exercise this right within 3 years of entering into the contract.

If the insurer chooses not to avoid the contract or reduce the amount you have been insured for, they may, at any time vary the contract in a way that places them in the same position they would have been in if you had told them everything you should have. However, this right does not apply if the contract has a surrender value or provides cover on death.

If your failure to tell the insurer is fraudulent, they may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.

EISS Super Privacy Policy

We are required to comply with relevant privacy laws. The personal information that we collect is used to process your application, administer your account(s), provide you with services and conduct research about how to improve our services and products.

Unless required or authorised by law, we will only provide your personal information to authorised service providers who use the information to administer your account and provide services to you on our behalf. For more information, please refer to our 'Privacy Policy' available at eisuper.com.au/privacy or from Member Services.

TAL Privacy Policy

The Privacy of TAL customers is important and TAL is bound by obligations imposed by current privacy laws including the Australian Privacy Principles.

The way in which TAL collects, uses, secures and discloses your personal information is set out in the TAL Privacy Policy available at <https://www.tal.com.au/Privacy-Policy> or free of charge on request to TAL by telephoning 1800 666 136.

Collection and use of personal information

TAL collect personal information, including your name, age, gender, contact details, health information, salary, and employment information so that they may assess and administer their products and services to you. In certain circumstances, such as applications for life insurance products and claims, they may be required to collect personal information of a sensitive nature such as lifestyle and medical history information. If you do not supply the information that is required, they may not be able to provide their products and services to you or pay the claim.

TAL may take steps to verify the information they collect; for example, a birth certificate provided as identification may be verified with records held by Births, Deaths and Marriages to protect against impersonation, or they may verify with an employer regarding remuneration information provided in a claim for income protection to ensure that it is accurate.

7. Member declaration

I acknowledge that I have read the duty of disclosure and understand that this duty also applies until formal notification of acceptance. I have read and checked any answers not completed in my handwriting and to the best of my knowledge and belief all the answers to the questions in this Application and any supplementary application or personal statement which relate to me are true and correct and no information material to the assessment of this insurance has been withheld.

I, the Member, authorise and direct any medical or other practitioner to divulge at any time to TAL or to any lawfully constituted tribunal any and all information concerning my state of health and medical history, acquired in the course of professional attendance or consultation. A photocopy of this authority is as valid as the original. To this extent, all professional confidence and privilege is waived.

I consent to my personal information (including health and sensitive information) being collected, used or disclosed by TAL to its external service providers/contractors as contemplated in this form, including collecting it from or disclosing it to any medical practitioner or third party as required to assess, verify or process my application. This consent applies to any health and sensitive information collected on this form or future forms in relation to this insurance.
